

TEMPLE'S TEST.

THE ASSESSOR CLAIMS THAT IT SHOWS
MAYOR FRANCIS TO BE IN THE LEAD.

How the Chances of the Candidates for Governor Are Regarded in the State—Border Williams Rejects the New Ballot-Boxes as Not Up to Sample—Opening of the New Quarters of the Hendricks Association.

When Assessor Joseph Temple was asked to-day if he had made a State canvass of the chances in the gubernatorial race, as reported, he replied in the affirmative. Mr. Temple is now holding the position of Assessor and Collector of Water Rates, but previous to his election to the City Council he was for many years in the express business, in which he filled every position from messenger to division superintendent, and was widely known throughout the Central States. He knows all the important men in the State, and throughout these States, and though this acquaintance and the "fraternal" feeling of expressmen, to which he delicately hinted in his letters to such agents as he did not know, he has collected some very good pointers. Anyone who has ever lived in a small town knows the opportunities the station agents enjoy for collecting the sentiment of the community, which is usually represented at the arrival and departure of every train.

"Many of the persons I wrote to," said Assessor Temple, "were personal friends. Some of them did not know me, but I told them that I was an expressman, though now in politics, and was anxious to get the most reliable information I could on the chances of the candidates. I did not care in the interest of anybody, nor did I mention the fact that I was writing to any of the candidates. I did not tell them that I was from 300 points throughout the State. I have not tabulated the results yet, but they show that Mayor Francis is well in the lead. I inquire of the Judge, Norton, now, as I did not know his position exactly at the time. Judge Norton and Gov. Morehouse are comprehendible, but the distribution of the popular vote in every manner, whether by an original entry or by changing an entry. The demurer is overruled.

NOT UP TO SAMPLE.

Recorder of Voters Williams has decided to use the old ballot-boxes at the election to-morrow, as the new boxes just received were not complete, and the boxes are manufactured by a Chicago concern, which sent a representative to this city on receiving the telegraphic notifications of the rejection of the ballot-boxes. Friday, the manufacturer admitted that the amendment made is not up to sample. They state that they ordered brass work done in a hurry, and that the brass work was not up to the order. They have ordered the return of the boxes shipped to this city and will make a new supply as good as are called for in the contract and the sample now as the Recorder's on.

WILL RETURN THURSDAY.

There were numerous inquiries for Mayor Francis at his executive office to-day, as it was reported that the Competitor, O'Neil, would return from New York to-day. They are now making arrangements in New York for disposing of over $2,000,000 worth of municipal bonds which will be issued in a bond issue to reduce the bonds of St. Louis County, which the city assumed at the separation of the city and county.

Besides this business it is also understood that Mayor Francis will make another effort to interest the Legislature in building the Merchants bridge, an accomplishment which will doubtless be preferable to him both personally and politically. The Merchants bridge would be a strong platform to take his stand on. The Mayor will probably not return before Thursday.

THEIR NEW QUARTERS.

To-night the Hendricks Association will open their hall at 1206 Olive street. The First Battalion will be in attendance. There will be a spread, and speeches by President Garfield and several members of the Association.

POLITICAL NOTES.

R. H. Kern is announced as a candidate for Congress in the Ninth district.

The annual meeting of the Ninth Ward Democratic Club will be held on Wednesday evening.

Henry Pollock says if the Republicans of the Eighth district will work together next November they can elect the Congressman in that district.

LATE COURTS.

Catherine Carque wants a decree of divorce from George Carque. They were married in November, 1862, and separated in 1870. Mrs. Carque alleges that her husband abandoned her without any cause. There were eight children by the marriage. In the suit, H. Schleicher et al. vs. Ar- chambault & Carque, judgment for a stip- tiff for $483.97 was rendered in the Circuit Court to-day.

The Carque case was dismissed in the Circuit Court this afternoon: Bul vs. Glaser, Beckhoff vs. Liggett & Myers Tobacco Com- pany, Franklin vs. Louis Planning Mill Company, Raasen et al.

Albert Merrill of St. Louis, Vice-Presi- dent, Dr. J. D. Griffith of Kan- sas City, Thomas C. Homan of St. Louis, Treasurer, Gov. Morehouse, recently promised the Board his approval of the Missouri quar- ter time assessments, to be imposed at various state points, where small-pox is prevalent, and his failure to issue the same has caused much discussion at to-day's meeting. The Board is without funds, and President Gentry says it will disband if it did not forthcoming from the Legislature at next winter's session.

NEW WARRANTS.

Joe Ruth was arrested by Detectives Lawler and Desmond, who found on him a watch which had been stolen from Fred K. Kuhn, the son of Dr. J. F. Kuhn, a surgeon. His store was entered last Friday night by burglars, and ten watches valued at $100 stolen. The watch found on Ruth was identified by him. A man for burglary and larceny was arrested and imprisoned.

Clyde Kerr is charged with breaking into George Langenburg's house, 818 Grand Avenue, and stealing $100 worth of jewelry to-day.

Oweny Hines is charged with the burglary and larceny of W. J. McMartin's store, No. 1018 Locust street.

A warrant for petit larceny was issued against John Jarrett and George Herbert, who were arrested Saturday night on charge of stealing two guitars.

The Personal Liberty League to-day had eleven German naturalized in Justice Nolan's court. The men will be tried in droves so as to down the local option movement.

OVERRULLED.

The Demurrer to the Indictment of the Fifth National Cashier—Moral in May.

An important decision was rendered by Judge Thayer in the United States District Court to-day overruling the demurrer entered in the indictment of Cashier Creelius of the Fifth National Bank. The case will now be set for trial in the Circuit Court to-morrow. The counts of the indictment raised the question whether the erasure of one or more figures comprising a number already written on the books of account of the bank, and the writing of different figures in the place of the ones that were thus constitutes "making an entry" within the meaning of the statute.

That section provides that any Cashier, President, Director, clerk or other agent of a national banking association who makes an entry in the books of account or statement of the bank, with intent to injure or defraud any company or person or to obtain any benefit for himself, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

In three counts of the indictment the court examined the affairs shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

In the fourth count the court examined the general balance book whereby the amount of cash in the bank at the end of business day should be the same as the amount of cash in the bank.

In the counts to which a demurrer was raised he is accused of making false entries in the general balance book, so as to give the whole indictment is really challenged.

The Court holds that a person makes a "false entry" within the meaning of the statute when he erases one or more figures written and writes other figures in their place so that the balance of the account is not the same.

There is no substantial difference between erasing certain figures and writing different figures in their place, and the Court held that the part of which is in the writer's handwriting.

The statute was enacted to prevent bank officials from making a falsification of national banking associations by means of a falsification of any of the books of account of the bank.

"Buffalo," chirped the Signal Service wire this morning from Fort Assiniboin in Montana.

"Buffalo," chirped the Signal Service wire at Shreveport.

It means that both men were sending the same temperature, using, therefore, the same circuit word.

At the extreme north- ern portion of the United States, the cradle of the cold waves, it was 35 degs. also at Shreveport, La., almost at the southern extreme.

Sergt. Chappel, when the second "buffalo" was heard, jumped out of his chair. "Great Scott!" said he. "Is it possible that it is as warm up where I used to mark below zero as where the pickaninnies are supposed to frolic in the sun?"

"To the sunny South take me," said the signalman, who had a cold weather coat and a cap, and a heavy fur-trimmed coat and a wide-brimmed hat.

"Well, all right, then," said the mystified maiden. "If Fort Smith's minnies mum, I shall be, too."

The weather man's chivalry nature grew as warm up where that place is the sun out on the road to the sun."

"Certainly you may," he bowed, "but understand that there's to be no 'sunny South' up here." The signalman made a break for the door and putting on a severe official frown demanded "less noise."

"I ain't sing just a little? Let me, please."

The weather man's chivalry nature grew as warm up where that place is the sun out on the road to the sun."

"Well, all right, then," said the mystified maiden. "If Fort Smith's minnies mum, I shall be, too."

REACHES ZERO.

Between the north and south extremes, St. Louis got a very good slab of cold weather.

In consideration of the fact that the changes in the location of polling places will cause a loss of time in finding the new locations, we agree to give in the voter's name on our election list the exact time of the election, so that they may have an opportunity to vote before coming to business.

The Indiana Dry Goods Company, D. Crawford & Co., Penny & Gentz, D. Nigent & Co., and the New York City Grocer, Scheps Grocer Company, O. M. Schmid & Co., and many others.

Every place where it was submitted by the election committee, matter of fact, the heads of the business expressed themselves in favor of giving every opportunity to citizens to vote, and the election list was submitted to this important duty. Sentiment among business men is generally in favor of both the amendments. The polls will open at 5 a.m. m.

THE BALLOTS.

The four ballots which will be presented to the voters at the polls to-morrow will be in the following forms:

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE TO THE CITY CHARTER—Providing for paying for sprinkling by special taxation.

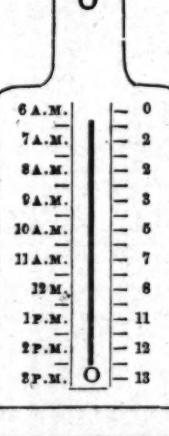

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE TO THE CITY CHARTER—Providing for paying for sprinkling by special taxation.

AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO TO THE CITY CHARTER—Authorizing the Municipal Assembly to increase the rate of taxation prevailing now in the new city limits, over so much of the territory embraced in the new city limits as it may deem expedient.

FIRES.

DESTRUCTION OF THE HAGGAD HOUSE AT MERIDIAN, Miss.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

BRIGHAM, Miss., February 27.—The Haggad House at Meridian, Miss., a three-story wooden building, and the largest hotel in the place, burned last night with all its contents. Several of the guests barely escaped with their lives. The loss is about $50,000. The insurance only partial. It is not known how the fire began.

A Mouse's Work.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

CLINTON, Mo., February 27.—A fire of strange origin occurred here last night at 9 o'clock. The Baptist parsonage was discovered to be on fire, and though it was some time before the fire was put out, it was not until after the fire had spread to the house of Rev. Mrs. Broadbent and Miss Emma Clark, students at Baird College, who purchased water from the fire department to extinguish the flames. The fire was extinguished at 12 o'clock.

you.THE CUSTODIAN of each boom should remember that a bladder can stand only a limited amount of wind, and that a cow cannot inflate itself to the size of a cow.
These are mere hints for the heedless.IT seems probable that Mr. BLAINE's letter was a tentative document drawn up for the purpose of feeling the popular pulse, while his more explicit interview indicates that his mind is really made up.It will be a cold day for voting to-morrow, but it will be a colder day for St.
Louis if those charter-amendments are defeated by the sluggishness and carelessness of voters who expect other people to save them at the polls.IT is evident that RIDDLEBERGER is trying to be greater than his party in the Senate, and it is not yet certain that he will fail. The eccentric Virginian has given the Senate a cyclonic shaking-up that will do it good and partially reform it.THE BULGARIANS are deeply concerned in the settlement of the affairs of Eastern Europe, but they have no voice in the matter. They might as well disunite events take their own course. Such a plan would materially lessen the burden of taxation.WHEN LIBBY PRISON becomes established in Chicago as a show it should be inaugurated with the help of a fat woman and a six-legged calf. A heightened realistic effect might be obtained by stocking the old building with the war-time fauna that used to lend liveliness to its interior economy.BUT a day or two ago the streets were muddy. To-day the mud is all turned to dust, and the wind, driving it in clouds through the streets, is giving us prediction of how St. Louis will look to our visitors in June if that sprinkling amendment should not get three-fifths of all the votes polled to-morrow.HENRY GEORGE is keeping coal of fire on Dr. MCGINNIS' head by insisting that he shall remain at the head of the Anti-Poverty Society, where he can obtain a "platform for preaching the gospel of peace and good will, larger than that from which he has been expelled." In the meantime Dr. MCGINNIS is not reciprocating this spirit of kindness.THE CIRCUS COMPANIES have obtained reduced rates from the railroads. This furnishes a cause for rejoicing. The circus, like tobacco and chewing gum, is becoming one of the necessities of life, and the circus men now have a chance to correct the immoral practice of crawling under the canvas by lowering the price of admission. The evil habit of crawling underthe canvas has sent several people to untimely graves, besides shattering the constitutions of two or three side-splitting clowns.THE new limits will be protested from excessive taxation by the same organic law which protects the old limits. The cry that the equalization amendment will authorize a general and unlimited increase of taxation throughout the country is put forth to keep that section of the city subject to the present system of unequal taxation, which forces the poorer property-holders to pay a rate of $2.06 on the $100 while it lets off with a rate of $1.30 the richer people whose mansions and lots are so large that less than six of them cover a block. To correct that injustice vote for the amendment.THERE is a good deal of property in the new limits worth much more per front foot than is the great bulk of property in the old limits. Having more of the benefits, it should at least bear an equal share of the burdens of its connection with the city of St. Louis. The cry that there is no limit to the taxes that may be imposed under the equalization amendment is nonsense. The State Constitution rigidly limits the rate of municipal taxation and the charter amendment simply provides for a readjustment of tax rates for different blocks and sections within the new limits upon a perfectly fair basis, which will leave most of the property therein exempt, as it now is, and make some of it pay the same rate as other property less benefited.TWO VERY important charter amendments will be adopted to-morrow by receiving three-fifths of all the votes polled, or will be defeated by the indifference of our citizens. Cold weather, the change of voting places and the great enlargement of the precincts will doubtless keep away from the polls thousands who are always too ready to conclude that there will be enough at the polls without them, and that the country will be safe no matter how the election goes. But it will be a cold day for St. Louis when two such important charter amendments are treated as matters of no importance by a large part of our voters. Vote for tax equalization and justice! Vote for sprinkling and cleanliness!

AGAIN the Spellman.

From the New York World.

SENATOR VEST, occasion in his speech before the Democratic National Committee, to reiterate his devotion to the spoils theory.
He declared that he believed "all the offices in the country should be filled by competent and worthy Democrats," and said that "an army which does not reward its soldiers will come to grief."THE last Democratic National Convention that was held in the city for which Senator Vest spoke proclaimed very different doctrine from this. It resolved that:Reform is necessary in the Civil Service.
